A Team may totally file four briefs (two for the two applicants and the other two for the two respondents), in the event it applies to compete before each of the two Courts.

- Written Briefs will be used by the Organizing Committee in order to select the Teams and distribute roles among them.

- After roles are assigned to selected teams, each Team will receive the relevant Brief of the Team it is arguing against; no other Briefs will be circulated before the hearings are held (e.g., if Team A applies and Team B responds, Team A will receive only Team B’s respondent Brief only).

- After each selected Team is accorded a role, the Briefs will be assessed by the Judges for the purposes of the final score.

- Each Brief shall be no longer than 16 pages.

a. Front Page
b. Table of contents
c. List of sources/authorities
d. Statement of Relevant Facts
e. Questions Presented
f. Summary of Arguments
g. Arguments
h. Prayer/Relief Sought

a. Front Page
The Front Page of the Brief must have only the following information, which should be in the following order:

The Team Number followed by “A” if an Applicant Brief or “R” if a Respondent Brief.
The name of the Case
The title of the document (i.e., “Brief for Respondent” or “Brief for Applicant”)

b. List of Sources/Authorities and Footnotes
The list of sources must contain references to all page numbers where sources or authorities are used or cited in the “Arguments” section of the Brief.

c. Statement of Relevant Facts
The Statement of Relevant Facts should be limited to facts relevant to the “Arguments” section in the Brief, and may not include unsupported facts, distortions of stated facts, argumentative statements, or legal conclusions.

d. Questions Presented
In this section teams should present the legal questions the Court is being called upon to decide in the context of the case. They must be presented as neutral questions, i.e. teams should not state their position on the questions raised in this section.
(b) The questions must be precise, relevant to the facts and each question should ideally not be more than a sentence. While each legal question might have further sub-questions, teams must state only the main legal questions in this section. Usually, there are 4-5 main legal questions in every problem.

e. Summary of Arguments
A good Summary of Arguments should consist of a substantive summary of the “Arguments” section of the Brief, rather than a simple reproduction of the headings contained in the Arguments section.

5.4 – Anonymity of Briefs
- Names of participants, and the nations or school name of Teams cannot appear on or within the Briefs. Each Team will be given a Team Number, which shall substitute the Team’s institutional affiliation.

6.0 – Selection
The Organizing Committee will assign alternatively the role of applicant or of respondent to each of the applying Teams. The roles’ assignment will be based solely on the substance of the arguments presented in the briefs and will try to make the applicants’ and the respondents’ arguments match. If the Teams applying before each Court exceed the number of four, the Organizing Committee will decide which Teams will be selected for the Oral Pleadings. The Organizing Committee may decide to select the Team to compete only before one Court out of the two it applied for. Teams competing before the two Courts may be given different roles (e.g., a Team may be requested to compete as an applicant before the American Supreme Court, and as a respondent before the European Court of Human Rights).

- The winning Team before a Court shall be the Team with the highest Total Score.
- In case more than one Team pleads before both Courts, the organization will declare the winning Team of the Comparative Competition. This shall be the Team with the highest sum of its Total Scores before both Courts.

- Each Panel of Judges will express a judgment regarding the work of the Teams and will give them some advices about the presentations.
