General Info

It is with great pleasure that the European Academy of Religion announces its third Annual Conference, which will take place in Bologna between Monday, June 22nd and Thursday, June 25th 2020. Fscire (www.fscire.it) will be the organizing institution. The scientific program will be composed of keynote lectures and working sessions (panels, book presentations).

Hereby EuARe opens the Call for Proposals, with the following novelties:

- Starting from this year, we open only a Call for Panels. Panels can be
  a) closed (with the choice of speakers already settled) or
  b) open (therefore connected to its own Call for Papers).

  In order to be accepted, panels must be composed of at least 3 participants, 1 chair and at least 2 speakers.

- Once all the Panels proposals are evaluated and proponents informed about the acceptance or rejection, a Call for Papers is opened. Papers are only allowed to be proposed within the open calls published on the website. Spare papers won't be accepted.

- Author Meets Critique (AMC) sessions have a defined slot of 1 hour. AMC proponents must identify the speakers and discussants of their session and organise it accordingly.

- We propose a new type of session: Publishers Meet Scholars. We invite publishers to take this opportunity to create a space where the needs of scholars and publishers can meet, for example, by presenting collections in their editorial line or addressing scholars with suggestions and advices on publishing issues, questions and processes. If you are a publishers and would like to explore this possibility, feel free to contact the EuARe Secretariat (eu_are@fscire.it): we will do our best to support you while preparing the proposal.

- Slots equal to hours. If you ask for one slot you are therefore asking for one effective hour of the program. In every hour/slot the suggested amount of speakers is 3.

- Differently from previous years, the only accepted language for panels and papers is English. As inclusiveness has always been a major focal point for EuARe, it has been decided to unify proposals language in order to allow every participant to take part in discussions and panels throughout the entirety of the Conference.

The deadlines of the Calls are:

Call for Panels
Deadline 01/11/2019 (GMT +1, 23:59)

Call for AMC
Deadline 31/12/2019 (GMT +1, 23:59)

Call for Papers
Starts 01/10/19
Ends 31/12/19 (GMT +1, 23:59)
Fees and Registrations

Registrations open in conjunction with the Call for Proposals. Four registration periods have been identified and fees vary accordingly. Together with the registrations, memberships for the year 2020 are open. A valid 2020 Membership is necessary in order to benefit of the discounted fees for the Annual Conference 2020.

Gala Dinner

As in past years, a Gala Dinner will take place during conference days and Fscire, the organising institution, partially funds it to encourage networking.

The contribution asked to participants is:
- Senior Scholars, Professors and Professionals: € 50
- Other categories: € 35

During registration you will be asked if you have any dietary requirement for the dinner. Please, note that if you choose one of those option, the EuARe Secretariat will contact you about one month before the Conference to confirm the availability. Kosher and Halal meals can only be requested until Firday, May 15th 2020.
Call for Panels

EuARe opens the 2020 Annual Conference Call for Proposals. Starting from this year, we open only a Call for Panels.

Panels can be

a) closed (does not accept spare papers. Speakers are contacted and selected by the proponent)
b) open (accepts spare papers sent through the submission procedure. Speakers are chosen by the proponent among the proposals received).

In order to be accepted, panels must be composed of at least 3 participants, 1 chair and at least 2 speakers.

Proponents will be notified about the outcome of their submission at the beginning of October.

Accepted closed panels have time until 31/01/20 to define their asset and communicate the definitive list of speakers (Name, Surname and Affiliation) together with the definitive titles of presentations.

Accepted open panels have their call published on the EuARe website at the beginning of October.

Proponents must present the final version of the panel — comprehensive of panel title and abstract, speakers’ names, surnames and affiliations, papers titles — by 31/01/20.

After the publication of the draft program, proponents and speakers are allowed to request changes regarding date and time for panels until 15/03/20.

Keep in mind that slots equal to hours. If you ask for one slot you are therefore asking for one effective hour. In every hour/slot the suggested amount of speakers is 3.

Differently from previous years, the only accepted language for panels and papers is English. As inclusiveness has always been a major focal point for EuARe, it has been decided to unify proposals language in order to allow every participant to take part in discussions and panels throughout the entirety of the Conference.

Before starting the submission process, make sure to have the following information at hand:

For closed panels:

1. Title of the panel
2. An abstract of up to 1500 characters spaces included (the system won’t accept longer abstracts)
3. Name, surname and email address of the proponent, the chair of the panel and of at least two speakers.
4. Indication of desired number of slots/hours

For open panels

1. Title of the panel
2. An abstract of up to 1500 characters spaces included (the system won’t accept longer abstracts)
3. Name, surname and email address of the proponent and the chair of the panel
4. Indication of the indicative number of papers that will be accepted
5. Indication of the desired number of slots/hours
6. An email address to which paper proposals should be sent (if different from proponent)

EuARe opens the 2020 Annual Conference Call for Proposals and with it, a Call for Author Meets Critique (AMC).

Authors are invited to present their books, finding discussants and speakers that intervene in the one-hour long session and organising the time accordingly. In the allocated time for AMC session, EuARe suggests a number of maximum 4 people.

In order to be accepted, panels must be composed of at least 3 participants, 1 chair and at least 2 speakers.

The Call for AMC closes on 31st December 2019 and proponents will be notified about the outcome of their submission at the beginning of January.

AMC proponents have time until by 31/01/20 to define their asset and communicate the definitive list of speakers (Name, Surname and Affiliation).

After the publication of the draft program, proponents are allowed to request changes regarding date and time for panels until 15/03/20.

Every AMC session corresponds to one slot and one hour.

Differently from previous years, the only accepted language for sessions is English. As inclusiveness has always been a major focal point for EuARe, it has been decided to unify proposals language in order to allow every participant to take part in discussions and panels throughout the entirety of the Conference.

Before starting the submission process, make sure to have the following information at hand:

1. Title of the panel
2. An abstract of up to 1500 characters spaces included (the system won’t accept longer abstracts)
3. The full details of the book presented
